

Study Skills Assignment sheet
October 20 & 22

A. Write the topic sentence for each of the two paragraphs below.

The average summer temperature on Antarctica is zero degrees Fahrenheit. In winter, the temperature can drop to 125 degrees below zero. Because it is so cold, Antarctica has 90 percent of the world's ice and snow. The land stays frozen all year long.

Moss sometimes grows on the few rocks that are not covered in ice. Some tiny but tough insects live in the middle of the continent. Along the coast, there are penguins, seals, and whales. No people live in Antarctica, but scientists visit to study the environment.

B. Write 3 supporting sentences for each of these topic sentences:

The game of football can be very exciting to watch.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

In the Fall, there are many fun activities happening
In Yakima.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

C. Write two paragraphs with a topic sentence and at least three supporting sentences under it.

Make sure all your work is turned in for Study Skills by next week.

If you have late work, you should have received an orange slip today stating what was missing.

If there are any late or missing assignments after next week, you will need to attend the first session of the 9th week, Monday, November 2 at 9:00 a.m.
